SUBJECT: FY 1990 Intelligence Authorization Bill

1. Attached for your review is the second draft of the FY 1990 Intelligence Authorization bill. The bill incorporates several controversial proposals by components within DoD that have not yet been accepted by the Secretary of Defense. This draft bill does not include the proposal to reduce CIARDS eligibility from five years to three years because the Director has not yet approved this legislative proposal.

2. One proposal that OGC has objected to in previous years concerns an amendment proposed by the Army to the Intelligence Identities Protection Act. The amendment would close a perceived loophole in the law, but OGC has objected to the re-opening of the Identities Protection Act for amendment because it could lead to other amendments that are less favorable to the Intelligence Community.

3. The draft bill also includes legislation that would reverse the requirement imposed last year that LANDSAT data be procured through the Defense Mapping Agency.

4. Please provide any comments on the draft bill by 12 December to my staff.
